CITI'S TAKE

We model ~$1.4B upside in the Apr-Q with sales reaching $80B vs Street's $78.6B on stronger-than-expected B300 ramp. Looking into the Jul-Q, we expect 11% Q/Q sales uptick to $89B vs Street $87B on continued ramp of B300 as reflected by the faster-than-expected 1.6T transceiver shipments. We model data center sales in Apr/Jul Qs to grow +18%/+11% Q/Q vs Street +15%/+10%. Using Citi's updated hyperscale capex model of 83%/57% growth in CY26/27, we revise our FY27/28 EPS +4%/+10%. We maintain our TP of $300 based on a 28x multiple applied to revised FY28 EPS power vs prior 30x or in-line with updated 3-year historical average. Maintain Buy.

Key Investor Topics — 1. Custom ASIC vs GPU Market: Updated thoughts on competitive dynamics given hyperscale (Google) recent commentary to sell hardware; 2. Ultra-fast Inferencing: Groq LPU progress & timing update; 3. Rubin Ultra timing, supply tightness, and impact to future gross margins.

Updated Accelerator TAM Model — We model AI merchant GPUs to represent the larger mix of AI accelerators through C2028E. We now expect merchant units to grow at a CAGR 32% vs the prior 25% during that period driven by NVDA demand but also AMD's recent wins including Open AI. We nevertheless still expect NVDA will continue to capture the bulk of AI accelerators investment due to its technology leadership and large installed base. Coming from a smaller base, we expect ASIC units to grow at a CAGR of 74% as various ASIC programs come online, particularly in the 2027 timeframe. Combining the two, we expect AI accelerators to grow at a 49% CAGR between C2025 and C2028E. We model AI merchant GPUs sales to grow at 30% CAGR vs. ASICs' 94% over the next 3 years to reach $454B and $150B, respectively. We expect the combined TAM to grow at a 39% CAGR for a total of $603B by C2028E vs. our prior $523B forecast.

Data Center Semis TAM — We expect the total 2028 data center semis TAM to now reach $851B, 16% above our prior expectation of $731B. The 16% increase in GPU/Custom ASIC TAM is primarily driven by higher-than-expected demand for ASIC. Consistent with comments from AVGO, we use a ~30% networking-to-compute $ content attach.

1. Apr-Q Earnings Preview

We model $1.4B upside in the Apr-Q with sales reaching $80B vs. Street's 78.6B on stronger-than-expected B300 ramp. Going into the Jul-Q, we expect a 11% QoQ sales uptick to $88.7B (Street $86.6B). We expect a continued strong ramp of B300 as foreshadowed by the faster-than-expected ramp of 1.6T transceivers (see note). We model data center sales in Apr/Jul to grow sequentially +18%/+11% QoQ vs. Street +15%/+10%.

2. NVDA AI GPU Model

Units: We revise our GPU units' estimates following datapoints indicating a higher Blackwell demand. We now model 11.2M units (+58% Y/Y vs prior 10.6M). Following reassuring Blackwell ramp comments at GTC 2026 by management, we increase our estimates of Blackwell in FY2027 (Jan-27) by +9% to 7.3M driven mostly by B300 continued strong ramp.

AI GPU sales: Backed by units' upticks and favorable product mix, we estimate FY2027 sales reaching $284B (+79 YoY%). Our GPU sales revisions of $16B reflect largely an upward revision to our units' assumption. We expect sales of AI GPUs to represent on average high 70% to 80% of total NVDA data center sales in FY2026-FY2027, with the remaining being comprised primarily of networking (Ethernet and InfiniBand), standalone CPUs, and software/services offerings.

Our NVDA AI sales estimates revision also reflect the company's $1T+ 2025-2027 DC sales visibility. The exponential growth of inference computing, coupled with NVIDIA's extreme co-design and the ever-extending CUDA installed base continue to drive strong demand and growth visibility for NVIDIA through 2026 and 2027. Since GTC DC (Oct 2025), NVDA's purchase orders have increased significantly. The company's orders have also diversified with superintelligence Labs and multiple open-source model builders being added to the mix. In terms of mix, 60% of Nvidia's business is expected to come from the hyperscalers bucket as the latter remain the primary path for enterprises to have access to AI GPUs. The remaining 40% represents everything else including enterprise DC, robotics, gaming, supercomputing, etc. While $1T CY2025-2028 is mostly in-line with expectations, we see room for upside given their 9-12 months lead time which leave room for CY2027 upside. Moreover, the $1T does not include LPU, CPU standalone, Hopper and others legacy chips.

We also revise our Accelerator TAM model.

In terms of units... We model AI merchant GPUs to represent the larger mix of AI accelerators throughout C2025 to C2028E. We now expect merchant units to grow at a CAGR 32% vs the prior 25% during that period driven by NVDA demand but also AMD's recent wins including Open AI. We nevertheless still expect NVDA will continue to capture the bulk of AI accelerators investment due to its technology leadership and large installed base. Coming from a smaller base, we expect ASIC units to grow at a CAGR of 74% as various ASIC programs come online particularly in the 2027 timeframe. Combining the two, we expect AI accelerators to grow at a 49% CAGR between C2025 and C2028E.

In terms of compute sales... We expect the mix of AI merchant GPUs to remain high (70%+). This is despite the expectation of lower merchant unit growth vs. ASICs. The primary reason for AI merchant GPUs sales shares remaining at 78%+ is the significantly higher merchant GPU ASPs (between 3x and 8x vs. ASICs). We model AI merchant GPUs sales to grow at a 30% CAGR vs. ASICs' 94% over the next 3 years to reach $454B and $150B, respectively. We expect the combined TAM to grow at a 39% CAGR for a total of $603B by C2028E vs. our prior $523B forecast.

Data center semis TAM: We expect the total 2028 data center semis TAM to now reach $851B, 16% above our prior expectation of $731B. The 16% increase in GPU/Custom ASIC TAM is primarily driven by higher-than-expected demand for ASIC. Consistent with comments from AVGO, we use a ~30% networking-to-compute $ content attach.

NVIDIA Corp

Company description

Nvidia is a leader in graphics processing units or GPUs. It is engaged in creating graphics and networking chips, which are used in gaming, data centers, and automotive end markets. Nvidia was founded by Jen-Hsun Huang (current CEO) and partners in January 1993 and is headquartered in Santa Clara, CA.

Investment strategy

We like Buy-rated NVDA on secular AI growth opportunities.

Valuation

Our price target for NVDA of $300 is based on ~28x P/E on C27E earnings power of ~$11 (incl. SBC) discounted back. Our 28x P/E multiple is in-line with 3 year average.

Risks

Downside risks to the attainment of our target price include: 1) competition on gaming could drive the stock lower if Nvidia loses market share; 2) slower-than-expected adoption of new platforms can drive lower data center and gaming sales; 3) lumpiness in auto and data center markets can add volatility to the stock/multiple; and 4) cryptomining impact on gaming sales.

Analysts' compensation is determined by Citi Research management and Citigroup's senior management and is based upon activities and services intended to benefit the investor clients of Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and its affiliates (the "Firm"). Compensation is not linked to specific transactions or recommendations. Like all Firm employees, analysts receive compensation that is impacted by overall Firm profitability which includes investment banking, sales and trading, and principal trading revenues. One factor in equity research analyst compensation is arranging corporate access events between institutional clients and the management teams of covered companies. Typically, company management is more likely to participate when the analyst has a positive view of the company.

For financial instruments recommended in the Product in which the Firm is not a market maker, the Firm is a liquidity provider in such financial instruments (and any underlying instruments) and may act as principal in connection with transactions in such instruments. The Firm is a regular issuer of traded financial instruments linked to securities that may have been recommended in the Product. The Firm regularly trades in the securities of the issuer(s) discussed in the Product. The Firm may engage in securities transactions in a manner inconsistent with the Product and, with respect to securities covered by the Product, will buy or sell from customers on a principal basis.

Unless stated otherwise neither the Research Analyst nor any member of their team has viewed the material operations of the Companies for which an investment view has been provided within the past 12 months.

Guide to Citi Research Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

Citi Research stock recommendations include an investment rating and an optional risk rating to highlight high risk stocks.

Risk rating takes into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria. Stocks will either have no risk rating or a High risk rating assigned.

Investment Ratings: Citi Research investment ratings are Buy, Neutral and Sell. Our ratings are a function of analyst expectations of expected total return ("ETR") and risk. ETR is the sum of the forecast price appreciation (or depreciation) plus the dividend yield for a stock within the next 12 months. The target price is based on a 12 month time horizon. The Investment rating definitions are: Buy (1) ETR of 15% or more or 25% or more for High risk stocks; and Sell (3) for negative ETR. Any covered stock not assigned a Buy or a Sell is a Neutral (2). For stocks rated Neutral (2), if an analyst believes that there are insufficient valuation drivers and/or investment catalysts to derive a positive or negative investment view, they may elect with the approval of Citi Research management not to assign a target price and, thus, not derive an ETR. Citi Research may suspend its rating and target price and assign "Rating Suspended" status for regulatory and/or internal policy reasons. Citi Research may also suspend its rating and target price and assign "Under Review" status for other exceptional circumstances (e.g. lack of information critical to the analyst's thesis, trading suspension) affecting the company and/or trading in the company's securities. In both such situations, the rating and target price will show as "—" and "—" respectively in the rating history price chart. Prior to 11 April 2022 Citi Research assigned "Under Review" status to both situations and prior to 11 Nov 2020 only in exceptional circumstances. As soon as practically possible, the analyst will publish a note re-establishing a rating and investment thesis. Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Catalyst Watch/Short Term Views ("STV") Ratings Disclosure:

Catalyst Watch and STV Upside/Downside calls: Citi Research may also include a Catalyst Watch or STV Upside or Downside call to indicate the analyst expects the share price to rise (fall) in absolute terms over a specified period of 30 or 90 days in reaction to one or more specific near-term catalysts or events impacting the company or the market. A Catalyst Watch will be published when Analyst confidence is high that an impact to share price will occur; it will be a STV when confidence level is moderate. A Catalyst Watch or STV Upside/Downside call will automatically expire at the end of the specified 30/90 day period. The Catalyst Watch will also be automatically removed if share price performance (calculated at market close) exceeds 15% against the direction of the call (unless over-ridden by the analyst). The analyst may also remove a Catalyst Watch or STV call prior to the end of the specified period in a published research note. A Catalyst Watch/STV Upside or Downside call may be different from and does not affect a stock's fundamental equity rating, which reflects a longer-term total absolute return expectation. For purposes of FINRA ratings-distribution-disclosure rules, a Catalyst Watch/STV Upside call corresponds to a buy recommendation and a Catalyst Watch/STV Downside call corresponds to a sell recommendation. Any stock not assigned to a Catalyst Watch Upside, Catalyst Watch Downside, STV Upside, or STV Downside call is considered Catalyst Watch/STV No View. For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution-disclosure rules, we correspond Catalyst Watch/STV No View to Hold in our ratings distribution table for our Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside rating system. However, we reiterate that we do not consider No View to be a recommendation. For all Catalyst Watch/STV Upside/Downside calls, risk exists that the catalyst(s) and associated share-price movement will not materialize as expected.
